Project Statement

- For Remedy And Reminiscence I wanted to use objects from last year as a subject matter, I still have these vitamin c candies i had got from a convenience store from my trip to Japan back in may of last year. These candies were quite helpful whence i returned home as i was hit with the most mild case of covid ever, i also wanted to use some of my ceramic work from last year as well as something to hold the candies in. I started out with a piece of blue paper i used as a blue screen back in 2023 for my video and sound course, it however made the photos quite dark and gave the images a rather unpleasant tone. I felt that the ceramic hands would enhance the focal point of the candies situated with the ceramic bowl, the hands almost beckon the viewer towards the candies which seem almost tantalizing.

- I ended up turning the blue sheet of paper around to the opposite side so I could use the white, I also began to experiment with moving my Led Lamp around to create natural looking shadows which I should have done more of as the result was quite effective. This was where I used higher ISOs to make up for the increase in light as this was my first time using a light source which was quite a nice change as it made the photos pop. Since I suffered from a 2 week case of vertigo I wanted to use a neti pot as a way to add that sense of displeasure I felt for 2 whole weeks, using the pot itself was also unpleasant as I loathe getting water up my nose. The pot itself is meant to represent the healing process from the vertigo that set a lot of this project back.
